

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA
FLORENCE DIVISION

Michael Scott Crisp,

PETITIONER

v.

United States of America,

RESPONDENT

Crim. No. 4:05-cr-01124-TLW-2

C/A No. 4:16-cv-00678-TLW

Order

Petitioner Michael Scott Crisp pled guilty to a charge of violating 18 U.S.C. § 924(c), and he was sentenced as a career offender to 204 months imprisonment.<sup>1</sup> ECF No. 103. In his § 2255 petition, he asserts that he should be resentenced without the application of the career offender enhancement. He argues that the Supreme Court’s decision in Johnson v. United States, 135 S. Ct. 2551 (2015), which invalidated the Armed Career Criminal Act’s residual clause as unconstitutionally vague, also applies to invalidate the residual clause in the career offender sentencing guideline, formerly found at § 4B1.2(a)(2).<sup>2</sup>

The Supreme Court has now foreclosed Petitioner’s argument, holding that “the advisory Sentencing Guidelines are not subject to a vagueness challenge under the Due Process Clause and that § 4B1.2(a)’s residual clause is not void for vagueness.” Beckles v. United States, 137 S. Ct. 886, 895 (2017); see also United States v. Foote, 784 F.3d 931, 936 (4th Cir. 2015) (concluding that an erroneous application of the sentencing guidelines, including a career offender designation, is not cognizable on collateral review pursuant to § 2255). Accordingly, Petitioner's petition for relief pursuant to § 2255, ECF No. 142, is DENIED.<sup>3</sup> This action is hereby DISMISSED.<sup>4</sup>

The Court has reviewed this petition in accordance with Rule 11 of the Rules Governing Section 2255 Proceedings. In order for the Court to issue a certificate of appealability, Rule 11 requires that Petitioner satisfy the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2), which in turn requires that he "has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right." The Court concludes that he has not made such a showing in light of Beckles, and it is therefore not appropriate to issue a certificate of appealability as to the issues raised in this petition. Petitioner is advised that he may seek a certificate from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals under Rule 22 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

<sup>3</sup> The Court has given Petitioner's petition the broadest possible reading in light of Boag v. MacDougall, 454 U.S. 364, 365 (1982) (per curiam). To the extent his petition raises any other issues not explicitly addressed in this order, the Court has considered them and found them to be without merit.

<sup>4</sup> The Court did not require the Government to file a post-Beckles response in this case because "the motion and the files and records of the case conclusively show that [Petitioner] is entitled to no relief . . . ." 28 U.S.C. § 2255(b). However, the Court notes that the Government filed a response in a similar § 2255 case, asserting that the petition should be denied in light of Beckles. See Swinton v. United States, No. 4:08-cr-00368-TLW-1, ECF No. 356.
